PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

CA Sanjay Bilthare

Dear Member,

First of all I would like to extend gratitude to all of you for entrusting me with the responsibility as President of the prestigious Income Tax Bar Association. Our team had taken charge from the immediate Past President CA B.Subramaniam in the last AGM held on 27th June 2020, first ever AGM under Virtual Mode. We, under whose guidance of our past president, have converted the challenging situation of COVID-19 to an opportunity for learning and have continuously organized the webinars for the knowledge updation.

Now, with my new team we all are committed to put in best of our efforts and commitment to serve our profession with the same spirit. Due to COVID-19, the current year had become a year of Life Saving, which will be well observed with the action of government, where in continuous relaxation had been provided in the various compliances. In the present scenario, we have to work very cautiously so that not only we save ourselves but also our family and friends who are very much connected to us.

Friends, Department had introduced VIVAD SE VISHWAS SCHEME 2020, with an intention to reduce the Income Tax pending litigation, generate timely revenue for Government and help the taxpayers to end their disputes with the department by paying disputed tax and get waiver from payment of interest and penalty. Also get immunity from prosecution. Initially the benefit under the scheme was available upto 30 June 2020, but due to pandemic situation the said scheme has been extended to 31 December 2020. As the opportunity has been extended, so I request the member to analyse your pending cases, and take the benefit of the scheme.

It is the tough time for our professional colleagues also, looking to the pandemic situation all around the country the government is providing relaxation to the tax paying/ tax return filing community and compliances are extending every now and then, based on the situation. Even the business community ie. Our clients are also under the same critical situation, their business is also not operating at their full strength due to limitation of staff and workers. So the documents are not coming to our office on time for the compliances. As I have quoted earlier, this is the year of LIFE SAVING not for Compliance. As we all have a tendency to put in best of our efforts for our clients and take the burden totally on us, and make him free to do his business activity. It is the high time, when your revenues are also differing and we have to meet out our fixed costs, so we should also plan our activity in a way so that it may not become burdensome. Everybody is familiar with the current financial crises, so discuss the instances with your working team and reduce your fixed financial burden, so that the things may carry on till the end of this pandemic.

Friends, the Government is also putting best of its efforts to save the life of its people. It had floated the funds and essential commodities through various schemes and banks for supporting the common man and the business community. But from where the funds will come to the government?, that's a big question. Every person, as per his capacity, is generously contributing to the various funds of the State and Central Government, to help the government to fight with this critical situation. So What I feel, we should encourage our clients to pay the taxes, a little more than his capacity, as a contribution to the nation in this pandemic situation. This will be our duty to Nation. I know we all are doing the same but I request to put in little more efforts for the same, really it's a need of hour.

At the end, Once again I want to say that IT Bar Association, as a team we will try to put in best our efforts in organizing the programmes for the benefits of its members. I also request all the members to suggest the topic of common interest of the members, so that we may plan accordingly.

Thanks and Regards

CA Sanjay Bilthare,

CHANGES IN FORM-26AS

By Coordinator CA Sakshi Gopal Aggarwal

ITR Filing: Know the changes in Form 26AS before filing your income tax return

The new Form 26AS will provide the information available with the tax authorities like sale and purchase of property transactions amongst others.

For those taxpayers who had failed to save tax in the FY 2020, the government had given them time till June 30, 2020 to complete their tax planning exercise. Further, the last date to file ITR for the financial year 2019-20 had been extended from July 31, 2020 to November 30, 2020. While you start the ITR filing, make sure you take into account the new changes brought about in Form 26 AS.

The government has brought about changes in the Form 26 AS which is essentially a statement of all the tax deducted at source (TDS) against your PAN. For a salaried individual, Form 16 shows the TDS accounted for by the employer but Form 26 AS takes into account any such TDS by other Deductors such as banks etc. Effective June 1, 2020, there are certain changes in the format of the Form 26 AS.

The new Form 26AS will provide the information available with the tax authorities like –

- (i) Information relating to tax deducted or collected at source
- (ii) Information relating to specified financial transaction like sale/purchase of property, investments, pending proceedings and demands.
- (iii) Information relating to payment of taxes
- (iv) Information relating to demand and refund
- (v) Information relating to pending proceedings
- (vi) Information relating to completed proceedings

To locate your Form 26 AS, you just need to log-in to the e-filing portal of the income tax department. “The 26AS is available to the tax payer through the registered account of the tax payer on the tax portal. For this purpose one needs to access the tax portal, log into one’s tax account and click on “View Form 26AS” under the ‘My account’ tab. This will take you to the TRACES website which displays the Form 26AS,” says Raote.

At times, there could be a mismatch between the figures in Form 16 and Form 26AS which should be rectified before filing ITR. “Considering that Form 26AS provides details of the financial transactions of the tax payer, it is necessary that the tax payers take the same into cognizance before submitting their tax return and reconcile the amounts reported in Form 26AS with the amounts they are going to report in the tax return,” informs Raote.

Also, there are a few important watchouts for taxpayers in the New Form 26AS:

1. It may be noted that Form 26AS is not an exhaustive report of one’s financial transactions – it captures only those transactions that exceed the specified threshold only e.g. Cash deposits of Rupees 10 lakh or more in savings bank accounts during a year or property sale or purchase if the transaction value exceeds 30 lakhs or investments in mutual funds beyond a particular limit etc.
2. As regards income, details of income only where taxes are withheld are reported in Form 26AS. However, there may be other transactions which do not exceed the monetary threshold or other income like savings bank interest and monthly rentals below Rs 50,000 which would not be reported in 26AS but have to be included in the total income. Hence the taxpayer needs to make sure that he is including other income details in addition to what has been captured in Form.
